REAL CHOICES PREGNANCY CARE CENTER

May 27, 2010

Message from Mikki

Is volunteering an “I got to” or “I get to?” I never really considered the difference until I heard about a young boy, the oldest of 4 children, who recently died of bone cancer. As the first born in the family he often complained, “I’ve got to go watch my sister’s soccer game” or “I’ve got to babysit my little brother.” After his diagnosis he had a change of attitude and a change of heart. Perhaps knowing that his days on earth were few he saw all of these “obligations” as opportunities to live life to the fullest. The begrudging “I’ve got to” became an enthusiastic “I get to.” For me it is a wake up call to view the things “I’ve got to do” with new eyes!

I invite you to consider your volunteer commitment to Real Choices—is it a “I’ve got to” or “I get to?”

I praise God that I get to work with so many amazing people - volunteers, staff and our clients who everyday remind me that life is a present we get to unwrap everyday!

As always my thanks to all of you who get it done everyday!

~Mikki

One day your life will flash before you. Make sure its worth watching!

Nancy's Notes

On May 8th, St. Luke’s Orthodox Church honored our clients, their mothers, sisters, daughters, spouses and mentors at a lovely tea. Oh, how some of our babies have grown! Moms and moms to be were honored for choosing life; sometimes under difficult circumstances.

Even in their make-shift fellowship hall, the ladies of St. Luke’s Church prepared a festive Mother’s Day celebration and served yummy food. Clients were able to “shop” with their Baby Bucks for “new” clothes donated by J.Jill’s at the Flatiron Crossing Mall.

My sincere thanks to Rita Rosson, Nancy, Courtney Anna Grace & Katherine Knudtsen, Sarah LaBarre and Sandy Horton.

Showers of Love

It's been a wet spring with lots of rain showers and many Baby Showers.

This spring 4 churches hosted Baby Showers and "flooded" us with supplies allowing us to meet the needs of our moms and babies.

Sincere thanks to the parishioners at:

St. Thomas Aquinas Church - Boulder

Nativity of Our Lord Church - Broomfield

South Broadway Church of the Nazarene Boulder

St. Martin de Porres Church - Boulder

We would also like to thank Tawni Heuton and friends from Flatirons Community Church who heard about a client in need and showered her with love!

Tidbits

Volunteers are needed to provide a simple meal for our MOMS support group which meets on the 1st and 3rd Thursdays of the month. One meal, once a year = Many happy moms!! Call Nancy to volunteer.

Brad Seng spoke to a record number of students in 2010. Nearly 1500 middle and high school students heard Brad's healthy message of abstinence between January and May.

WOW!

Post Abortion Support Group starting up in June. For more information please call or email RCPCC volunteer Diane Fial © 303-359-3289 dlfreiheit@comcast.net
